Themed play just got even better with this great ship. Play activities on the lower and upper decks allow everyone to play together. The manipulative and interactive components like the binoculars, wheels and music panel ensure endless hours of creative and imaginative play. These components support children's social/emotional and cognitive/creative development. Additionally, these tactile activities subsonsciously support children's fine motor skills in a fun and entertaining way. Other activities make sure their physical development is supported too, for example during a roleplay scenario of man aboard using the fireman's pole or walk the line with the track ride.
