The Starsurfer is an awesome play event for exploring and developing balance and coordination skills. It will attract tweens to play again and again, thanks to its multi-functionality. The sense of balance is fundamental to all other motor skills. The rocking platform has space for individuals or groups rocking together. The Starsurfer is a multi-functional seat, inviting seated, lying or standing children. This makes it an efficient and fun trainer of cooperation, negotiation and turn-taking. These social skills are hard to teach. But they come easy in play on the Starsurfer.

Rocking together

Social-Emotional: the possibility of rocking two together trains cooperation skills. Consideration of others when rocking.

Movable desk

Physical: facilitates standing, sitting and lying, which supports people with disabilities. Trains balance and sense of space when children are standing, using leg and core muscles. Social-Emotional: point for gathering. Supports teamwork and socializing when children are rocking together. Inclusive.
