NRO603

The Robinia Dress-Up wall with Mirror is a great play creator that invites numerous dramatic play scenarios: shop, beauty salon, kitchen. It repeatedly attracts children to play for a long time. The table with flaps covering holes and the shelf under the table make for endless play and experimenting, shifting materials through holes. This stimulates the child's understanding of object permanence: that things can disappear from sight but still exist. This is fundamental for understanding that people exist even if you don't see them and thus is an important cognitive skill. The window, clock and bell invite hours of dramatic play. This is known to stimulate language development. The mirror builds up the child's understanding of individuality and makes for hours of fun. The play panel encourages social interaction and cooperation in dramatic and explorative play.

Mirror

Cognitive: understanding of individuality and self expression. Stimulates dramatic play and so language and communication development.

Shelf

Cognitive: suggests a theme and supports dramatic play, which stimulates language and communication skills. Gives the option of hiding or storing items as part of dramatic play or explorative play.

Desk flaps w. holes

Social-Emotional: cooperation, turn-taking and parallel play inspired by the two flaps.

Cognitive: shifting things through holes to shelf supports logical thinking and the understanding of object permanence.

Window

Social-Emotional: invites interaction between sides and cooperative play.

Clock and bell panel

Cognitive: understanding cause and effect when ringing bell, learning about numeracy and time in a tangible way. Creative: leaving a mark when creating new positions on clock or with sound creating a rhythm when ringing or knocking the bell.
